Series Description

Bringing together established academics and rising stars, Bloomsbury Research Handbooks in Asian Philosophy survey philosophical topics across all the main schools of Asian thought. Each volume focuses on the history and development of a core subject in a single tradition, asking how the field has changed, highlighting current disputes, anticipating new directions of study, illustrating the Western philosophical significance of a subject and demonstrating why a topic is important for understanding Asian thought.

From knowledge, being, gender and ethics, to methodology, language and art, these research handbooks provide up-to-date and authoritative overviews of Asian philosophy in the twenty-first century.

The first set of titles includes:

The Bloomsbury Research Handbook to Chinese Philosophy and Gender

Edited by Ann A. Pang-White, University of Scranton, USA

The Bloomsbury Research Handbook to Indian Aesthetics and the Philosophy of Art

Edited by Arindam Chakrabarti, University of Hawaii, Manoa, USA

The Bloomsbury Research Handbook to Indian Epistemology and Metaphysics

Edited by Joerg Tuské, Salisbury University, USA

Forthcoming volumes include:
