

‘GENUINE PRETENDING: A DAOIST MODE OF EXISTENCE’ A LECTURE BY HANS-GEORG MOELLER AND PAUL J. D’AMBROSIO

01.06.2018, 14:00-15:30

Ghent University
Faculty of Arts and Philosophy
Campus Boekentoren (Blandijnberg 2)
Department of Languages and Cultures
5th floor, room 150.018

Abstract: This paper will introduce the notion of “genuine pretending” with the intention to describe an existential practice or mode of life in the social world. This notion will be developed out of an in-depth reading and philosophical analysis of core passages of the Daoist text Zhuangzi.

Hans-Georg Moeller (University of Macau)

Paul J. D’Ambrosio (East China Normal University)

Contact

Ady.VandenStock@Ugent.be

Universiteit Gent

@ugent

Ghent University