

Rectifying the Name of Confucianism

September 28-30, 2018
Boston University

The Boston University Confucian Association cordially invites you to participate in this symposium exploring the prospects of Ruism (Confucianism) in the United States. The conference aims to provide a forum in which to examine the question of how to situate Ruism in contemporary American Society. We will consider:

- Contemporary interpretations of central concepts in Ruist philosophy
- The reception of Ruism in Western intellectual history
- Insights Ruism offers for reflection on social issues in the United States
- Possible institutional configurations for Ruism to adopt in the United States
- The global revival of Ruism

Keynote Speakers:

Bryan Van Norden (Vassar College)

Stephen C. Angle (Wesleyan University)

Conference Reporters:

Anna Sun (Kenyon College)

Robert C. Neville (Boston University)

Conference Organizers:

Bin Song (Washington College)

Lawrence A. Whitney (Boston University)

For conference schedule and to register, visit www.bu.edu/chapel/life/rectifyconfucianism

