

THE NAKPA COURIER

A Quarterly E-Newsletter of the North American Korean Philosophy Association

About NAKPA

The NAKPA was founded in 2013. We are now an affiliate group of the American Philosophical Association. The notion of Korean philosophy here shall be understood broadly enough to cover not only the traditional philosophy such as the Buddhist philosophies of Wonhyo and Jinul or for that matter the Joseon Neo-Confucianism but also the contemporary philosophy done on important current topics in and out of Korea by philosophers of Korean extraction or by those who are interested in philosophy in Korea. At this point, there are neither dues nor special membership requirements for NAKPA. For further information, please contact our editor:

Greetings from the Desktop Editors

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

Greetings —

We hope you are all having an enjoyable early Winter no matter where you are. This is the third issue for this year from the NAKPA staff.

In this issue we can find calls for papers for the annual NAKPA conference at the University College in Cork in Ireland in October 2019, as well as the calls for entry articles for Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy (SEP), Information on the Eastern, Central and Pacific meetings of APA are also included. Please note the change of dates for the annual NAKPA conference at Cork. It will take place Oct. 10-11, 2019 instead of Oct. 17-18, 2019.

We are still looking for two bibliographers on Korean philosophy for this newsletter, one for the latest literature published in the Korean language, the other for the non-Korean literature. If you want to serve in this function or know someone who can do that, please give us a holler.

Also, do not forget: If you have a publication that appeared recently or will appear soon, or if you have any suggestions about our operations, please let us know. We will be happy to circulate the news on the cyber-space.

By the way, if you receive this email, it is because you are on my list as a member of the NAKPA or a potential member. If you would like to be removed from the group email, please let us know. We plan to issue an e-newsletter on a quarterly basis (February, May, August and December).

Once again I hereby send you my best regards on half of the NAKPA board.

Call for Papers

In general, paper abstracts should be 200 words in length. Complete panel proposals should include: panel title, a 150-word introduction to the theme of the panel, and a 150-word abstract for each of the papers. Include each presenter's name, e-mail address, a brief bio and an institutional affiliation.

The Sixth Annual NAKPA Meeting 2019

Emotion, Power and Gender: Their Integration and Intersection in Korean philosophy

October 10-11, 2019
University College Cork, Ireland
Keynote speaker: Dr. Jin Y. Park, Dr. Halla Kim
Send enquires to: K.Cawley@ucc.ie

The conference will take place on Oct 10-11, 2019 with people arriving on the 16th. In regards to editing a volume, we could have a special edition on Korean Philosophy for the online journal the Irish Journal of Asian Studies (<https://irishjournalofasianstudies.org/>). The Conference offers refreshments for the breaks and meals on the Thursday and Friday. Please send an abstract (200 words) and or panel proposal to kim.halla@hotmail.com before July 1, 2019.

Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy (SEP) Entries

We are looking for authors to write the following articles for the Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy (SEP). The aim of SEP is to provide tertiary literature on a philosophically significant topic. As such, the entry should not be a thesis-driven paper but a neutral overview of the primary and secondary texts in addition to a general introduction to the topic. The NAKPA Board will form a screening committee composed of internationally known scholars. Each article can be up to 10,000 words. Co-authorship is possible, and authors will need to revise and update the entry (at least) every 3-4 years. The following topics will likely covered:

~~Korean Philosophy~~
Korean Buddhism
Korean Confucianism
~~Korean Aesthetics~~
Contemporary Korean Philosophy

Wonhyo
Jinul
Toegye
Yulgok

Synopsis: This is the first regular international conference organized by the International Society of East Asian Philosophy (ISEAP). Its aim is threefold: 1) to enhance the research quality on East Asian philosophy, 2) to provide a substantial international academic platform for East Asian philosophy, and 3) to foster international collaborations for East Asian philosophy. Further conferences are planning to be held in different parts of the world.

While there is a very long history of philosophical tradition in East Asia, philosophy was not recognized and developed as a discipline in the academia until the late nineteenth century. Having shared the innovative translation of the Greek origin term, philosophia given by Nishi Amane, tetsugaku 哲学, philosophia has been transformed into various forms in East Asia throughout the last two centuries. Alongside the reception of and confrontation with Western philosophy, a great amount of new philosophical terms and traditions have been consolidated in East Asia. It is, therefore, a timely and urgent agenda to take a close look on them.

This conference welcomes proposals on all periods, themes, figures, texts, concepts and perspectives on East Asian philosophy, as well as comparisons between various traditions within and without East Asian in the past, present and future. This conference specifically encourages young scholars to submit their proposals.

About ISEAP: ISEAP is a non-profit academic consortium that promotes global intellectual exchanges on East Asian philosophy. ISEAP aims at opening up the philosophical potential embedded in East Asia, including its interplay with Western and non-Western philosophy.

Mission:

1. To examine the reception of and confrontation with Western philosophy in East Asia
2. To promote philosophical dialogue inside and outside East Asia

3. To unveil the philosophical potential in East Asia
4. To foster global philosophical exchanges and collaborations of East Asian philosophy

Activities:

1. To organize regular international conferences, organized panels, public lectures and events on East Asian philosophy globally
2. To compile and publish research outputs on East Asian philosophy, including the first international peer-reviewed journal on East Asian philosophy, the Journal of East Asian Philosophy (Springer), books and so on
3. To strengthen the international network and foster collaborations on East Asian philosophy

Asian Ethnicity (Routledge): Special Issue on 'Modern Korean Identity and Minorities'

Korea in the 21st century is a rapidly changing society with many different groups of people migrating there, but also growing numbers of Koreans are migrating elsewhere. This means that there has been a great transformation taking place on a peninsula that often has been described as homogeneous. Koreans have been forced to accept this inevitable change, encountering difficulties trying to cope with 'multiculturalism', while attempting to integrate (with varying degrees of success) various minorities from places in Asia such as China and Vietnam, but also from Europe and the United States, as well as political refugees from Yemen. This special issue hopes to explore modern Korean identity and minorities, both in terms of ethnicity, but also in relation to other minorities, such as the LGBTQ community, and 'others' seeking their own place/space and the rights that they should be entitled to.

We hope this issue will bring together a collection of insightful papers from international scholars working on varied topics, using different approaches. If you have questions regarding whether your paper is suitable for this special issue or not, please contact our executive editor Kevin Cawley (K.Cawley@ucc.ie)

Deadline for submission: September 15, 2019

Tentative publication month: June 2020

Papers can be submitted directly on our website <https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/caetzo/current>
 Submission guideline can be found directly on our journal's website: <https://www.tandfonline.com/action/authorSubmission?journalCode=caetzo&page=instructions>

Korean Studies

Our journal will appear in SCOPUS later this month, so it should be more appealing to people based in Korea as well as elsewhere. Our application for SSCI and A&HI is still pending. It would be great if you could consider submitting something to our journal as well as share this information with people in your network. Obviously, everything goes through regular peer review, but KS should now start to appear on more people's radar as a place to submit their work, particularly since they can now start to get more credit for publishing here.

With best wishes,

The Review of Korean Studies

The Review of Korean Studies (RKS) is a peer-reviewed journal published biannually in English by The Academy of Korean Studies. Since its first publication in 1998, the RKS has strived to stimulate dialogue and promote the exchange of ideas, theories, and perspectives among Koreanists in both Asia and the West. The journal has been listed in the Korean Citation Index since 2004. We are currently soliciting articles from potential authors in any field of Korean Studies for publication in the journal for December 2017 as well as future issues.

Scope and Types of Manuscripts:

- Research articles in all fields of Korean Studies
- Translation or introduction of (a) primary source(s) on Korean Studies.

Submission

- Available at all times
- Recommended deadline: the end of February for the June issue

Submission Guidelines

- All manuscripts should be submitted by email to review@aks.ac.kr as an attachment in MS Word document (.doc/.docx) format.
- Papers submitted to the RKS must be unpublished original work of the author(s) and not under consideration for publication elsewhere. Any fact of external support for the research or its earlier presentation/publication must be acknowledged. (Continued on Page 4)
- Citations such as the reference list, footnotes, and parenthetical citations should be made following the standards specified by The Chicago Manual of Style, 16th Edition. For Romanization of Korean, follow the Revised Romanization System, set by the Korean Ministry of Culture, Sports and Tourism. Further instructions for authors can be obtained from the RKS website: <http://review.aks.ac.kr>.
- The RKS does not charge contributors any expenses for publication or peer-reviews.

Journal of Chinese Philosophy

Professor So Jeong Park (SKKU) is now working for Journal of Chinese Philosophy as a Korean region book review editor, one of Asia and Europe Book Review Editors. You can find the information here: <https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/page/journal/15406253/homepage/editorialboard.html>

We think both Korean and English books are fine if the book review is written in polished English. We believe that this is good chance to advertise Korean scholarship and promote Korean philosophy. JCP is also considering several special issues of Korean philosophy.

Confluence: Online Journal of World Philosophies

Confluence: Online Journal of World Philosophies is a bi-annual, peer-reviewed, international journal dedicated to comparative thought. It seeks to explore common spaces and differences between philosophical traditions in a global context. Without postulating cultures as monolithic, homogenous, or segregated wholes, it aspires to address key philosophical issues which bear on specific methodological, epistemological, hermeneutic, ethical, social, and political questions in comparative thought.

<http://www.verlag-alber.de/e-journals/confluence/#concept>

Confluence aims to develop the contours of a philosophical understanding not subservient to dominant paradigms and provide a platform for diverse philosophical voices, including those long silenced by dominant academic discourses and institutions. Confluence also endeavors to serve as a juncture where specific philosophical issues of global interest may be explored in an imaginative, thought-provoking, and pioneering way. We welcome innovative and persuasive ways of conceptualizing, articulating, and representing intercultural encounters. Contributions should be able to facilitate the development of new perspectives on current global thought-processes and sketch the outlines of salient future developments.
