

Call for Papers

International Society of East Asian Philosophy
2021 Conference

Philosophies around East Asian Seas

Date: December 10-11, 2021 (Friday and Saturday, Japan Time)

Venue: Virtual (Zoom)

Organizer: International Society of East Asian Philosophy (ISEAP)

Co-organizer: Meiji Institute of Philosophies, Meiji University (MIPs)

The aims of the second meeting of ISEAP is threefold:

- 1) to explore the potential of philosophies around East Asian seas
- 2) to foster dialogue within and beyond philosophical traditions in East Asia
- 3) to consolidate research collaboration on East Asian philosophy.

While there has been growing interests in various philosophical traditions in East Asia, the dialogue between them is rarely found. Having shared similar texts, figures, terms and ideas, it is a timely agenda for examining the potential of the philosophical interconnections around the East Asian seas.

ISEAP conferences welcome proposals on all periods, themes, figures, texts, concepts and perspectives on East Asian philosophy, as well as comparisons between various traditions within and beyond East Asia. ISEAP specifically encourages young scholars to submit their proposals.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Professor Philip J. IVANHOE
Georgetown University

Professor Michiko YUSA
Professor Emerita,
Western Washington University

LANGUAGES

English (preferable), Japanese, Chinese and Korean

PUBLICATION

Papers presented at the conference are highly encouraged to submit to The Journal of East Asian Philosophy (published by Springer, peer-reviewed, all in English)

IMPORTANT DATES (JAPAN TIME)

Oct 15, 2021

Submission deadline of abstracts for individual papers and organized panels

Nov 1, 2021

Notification of acceptance by email

Nov 15, 2021

Release of tentative program

Dec 10-11, 2021

ISEAP Conference 2021

SUBMISSION OF PROPOSALS

For individual papers, please send us your full name, affiliation, email address, and a 250-word abstract in MS Word format.

For organized panels, please send us the full names of 3 to 4 members of the panel, affiliations, email addresses, a 250-word abstract of the panel, and a 250-word abstract for each paper of the panel.

All proposals should be submitted to eastasianphilosophy@gmail.com by Oct 15, 2021 (Japan Time).

The conference is supported by

科研費基盤研究B

「東アジア哲学の国際的研究拠点の形成」

科研費基盤研究C

「戦前東アジアにおける哲学：
日本の植民地支配の観点から」